THIS MATTER is before the court on Sabrina Winters’s Motion for Admission Pro Hac Vice of Pete M. Monismith.

Review of the court’s docket reveals that Pete M. Monismith has now been admitted pro hac vice in Norkunas v. Shah, Parikh & Associates, 5:09cv108 (WDNC 2009), Norkunas v. V & S Hospitality, 1:09cv372 (WDNC 2009), and Norkunas v. Belk, Inc., 1:09cv373 (WDNC 2009). He was advised in the later two cases that it is the policy of the district court that attorneys will not be serially admitted to practice pro hac vice . He was further advised in response to his third request that any further admission will require a North Carolina [Bar] license and admission to the Bar of this court or a showing that this particular type of ADA action is so specialized or addresses such a particular public concern that attorneys working in this area of the law are not readily available in the Western District of North Carolina. Any such further application in this district should be accompanied by an affidavit from Mr. Monismith detailing such reasons.

Norkunas v. Belk, Inc., 1:09cv373 (emphasis in original). The instant request fails to comply with that instruction and the request will be summarily denied.

ORDER

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED that Sabrina Winters's Motion for Admission Pro Hac Vice (#2) of Pete M. Monismith is DENIED.
